Jesus

Christians do good things not for the reward, not for the recognition, but simply because it is righteous and moral.

Jesus went about doing good, curing the sick, healing the blind, making the lame walk, raising the dead to life, feeding the hungry, and faithfully sharing the coming of the Kingdom of God with all who would listen. A few believed in what He preached. They saw hope for a new beginning.

The biggest contradiction arising out of the life, ministry and crucifixion of Jesus is the One who did good was accused of doing bad! The One who was living his life so selflessly in serving and offering his life to the people is accused of being satanic.

Jesus raised the possibility that people may become empowered by God's Spirit. This become a threat to those who had power and authority in the Jewish and Roman society. They benefited by keeping people poor, indebted and uneducated, hungry and blind.

The Pharisees controlled the interpretation of the law, the Sadducees controlled the operations and income from the temple, the Herodians spied on people for Herod and the Roman authorities.

For them, the good deeds of Jesus towards the people is simply bad for them. It undermined their influence, their power and authority over the people.

If we are to have a Fresh Start, then we too must live a selfless life, like Jesus surrendered to the Word of God!
